

AIRFIELD TO BE UPGRADED—West Liberty's half-mile-long airfield, seen here stop low hills just south of town, may be upgraded and lengthened, according to plans of the new Morgan County-West Liberty Air Board, Inc. The board at its first meeting decided on a three-step improvement plan to be completed by the time the new West Liberty hospital is opened. The airfield is 926 feet above sea level. Just to the north is the factory of Lymcoming Shoe Company, seen here in the mid foreground.

BURLEY PRICES STEADY IN LAST PRE-XMAS WEEK

Final week of pre-Christmas burley auctions opened Monday with a state-wide average of $71.95, up 74 cents, above Thursday, but dropped back slightly Tuesday to $71.30.

Bidding was strong as markets reopened Monday, with most grades gaining $1 to $2 per hundred over last week. Offerings early this week included larger percentages of lugs and flyings, improving the over-all quality and price averages.

Averages on nearby markets Tuesday were—Lexington $72.80; Mt. Sterling $72.09; Winchester $68.57, and Morehead $71.55.

LAST WEEK'S AVERAGE WAS $72.10

Burley averaged $72.10 on the eight-state belt last week, lowest weekly level so far of the season—down about 40 cents from the previous week. Sales for the season through last week have totaled 410,140-046 pounds for an average of $72.52. Receipts placed under co-op loan at support prices averaged 7.8 percent last week and 7.6 percent for the season. This is considerably less than the 22 percent for the same selling period last year.

DELAY SOUGHT IN FIXING BURLEY ALLOTMENT IN '71

WASHINGTON — The Senate agriculture committee authorized today approved a proposal that would allow advocates of a change in the burley tobacco price-support and production control system more time to make their case.

The committee approved a proposal that the secretary of agriculture be authorized to delay for up to a month his declaration of burley tobacco quotas for the 1971 crop.

The tobacco subcommittee in the House approved a similar resolution the same day.

If the secretary delayed setting crop allotments a growers' referendum on the future of the tobacco program likewise would be put off.

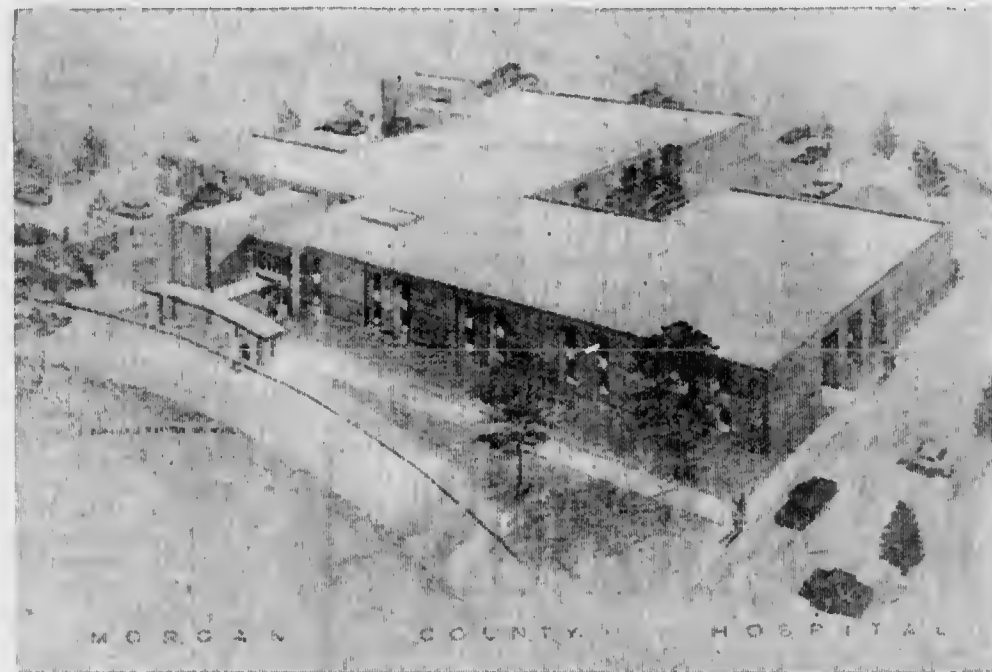

Congress is being asked to change the tobacco law so that burley growers next year will face a choice between poundage controls or a system at all of production curbs and price supports.

Under the current law, farmers with allotments of half an acre or less are exempt from acreage reductions.

Adoption of a poundage program would mean that minimum allotment growers would share in quota reductions.

Because of burgeoning surplus of the crop, some agricultural department officials are predicting a 25 to 40 percent cutback in acreage allotments for 1971 under the current program.

Frederick and May Gets Hospital Contract

Efforts to obtain a hospital for Morgan and adjacent counties came a step closer last Thursday as bids were opened for construction of the facility, an architect's drawing of which is shown above. Low bidder was the Frederick & May Construction Co., West Liberty, at $1,344,000. The hospital will have 30 long-term care beds, 20 acute-care beds, emergency room, x-ray laboratory, and other facilities. Financing of the new hospital comes from a local voted bond issue of $425,000, a $591,667 Hill-Burton grant, and a $464,000 grant from the Appalachian Regional Commission.

WORK ON SITE PREPARATION TO START AT ONCE

Frederick & May Construction Company of West Liberty has been awarded contract for construction of the new 50-bed area hospital and extended care center at West Liberty on its low bid of $1,344,000.

Bids were opened last Thursday in the courthouse here. Other companies bidding on the project and their bids were—Blevins Construction Co. of Campbellsville $1,387,000; Preston Construction Co. of Paintsville $1,397,000, and Timmons Construction Co. of Winchester $1,797,436.

The Fiscal Court, meeting the same day, formally awarded the contract to Frederick & May, after architect Donald P. Shelton advised that the local company had complied with all requirements.

And this week, Grover Frederick, head of the construction firm, said work will begin immediately on preparation of the site on Wells Hill and preparation of shop drawings and acquiring materials. The hospital will be erected on Wells Hill across Licking River from West Liberty's main business section.

The project is being financed by a county bond issue of $425,000 approved by voters in 1968 and from two federal grants—one of $596,667 from the Hill-Burton Fund and one of $464,000 from the Appalachian Regional Commission, also by additional locally donated funds.

The new facility, designed to serve Morgan and nearby counties, will be a two-story structure having 30 long-term beds for extended care, 20 acute-care beds, emergency room, x-ray, laboratory, and other facilities, and will be modern in all respects.

Meanwhile the Fiscal Court took steps the same day to advertise the county bond issue of $425,000 for sale to raise the local share of the costs. The court already had set a tax rate to raise money for retirement of bonds, as authorized by voters at the 1968 election.

Mr. Frederick said the hospital should be ready for occupancy within 24 months.

The contract calls for construction of the building and all permanently-attached facilities, also preparation of the plant site, and construction of a sewage treatment plant. Only items not covered in the contract are for movable equipment such as beds etc.

Attituted with Frederick & May as sub-contractors on the project are Griffith Plumbing and Heating Co. of Jackson, which will do the plumbing work, and Hamilton Electric Co. of West Liberty which will do the wiring and electrical installations.

West Liberty and surrounding areas have been without a hospital since the death of Dr. B. Murray, owner of the West Liberty Hospital for a number of years.

Hill-Burton approval of the contract is expected by Friday of this week, and the State Local Finance Officer must give approval to sale of the county bonds under the County Debt Act. But these are now considered as just formalities.

Lengthen and Light Airport Is Plan of New Airport Board Here

Improvements To Be Made By Time Hospital Opens

A three-point program to upgrade West Liberty's half-mile-long hilltop airfield has been proposed by a new county-city air board named recently by Judge Gene Allen.

The new Morgan County-West Liberty Air Board, Inc. is composed of — A. J. Herald, chairman; Sonny Rose, vice-chairman; and Earl V. Tredway, secretary-treasurer; Rex McGuire, Harold Rose, Walter Franklin, J. B. Mays, Woodrow Stamper, James Edward Mays, L. H. Owens, L. H. "Buster" Sheets, and Edward Elam.

The new board, at a meeting Dec. 6, decided that the airport should be upgraded and made fully operational by the time the new West Li-berly Area Hospital is constructed and opened so that specialists and technicians form the U. K. Medical Center can fly in for regular and special medical and surgical work at the hospital, also so that patients may be flown hurriedly to other centers.

In addition, the board decided that the West Liberty airport should be lighted immediately for emergency use by airplanes flying over this area.

To accomplish these goals, the board proposed a three-point program for the airport—

1. Install necessary lighting at the airfield immediately so that it can be used at night by airplanes in emergencies. (The Rumble Flying Club of West Liberty was picked to operate the field.)

2. Construct rest rooms and a lounge at the airport and possibly living quarters for an airport operator.

3. Extend the length of the airfield from its present 2,600 feet to 3,000 feet so that larger planes can use the field. (This can be accomplished by lowering the parking area to a level with the air strip, and use the earth to extend the field.)

Lighting the field would be first step in the planned improvements. Then it is hoped that money can be found from some program to employ an airport operator and to extend the length of the field by the time the new hospital is opened to the public.

Meanwhile, it was announced that two local pilots are being readied as licensed commercial pilots—J. B. Mays and Jerry Mays.

The airport board voted to hold regular meetings the first Sunday after each meeting of the Fiscal Court.

PRESIDENT SIDETRACKS FUNDS FOR PAINT CREEK RESERVOIR

(Paintsville Herald)

The long-awaited Paintsville dam and reservoir, a project which appeared to be ready for a construction start next year, has apparently been derailed again.

President Nixon has placed the project, a $20-million flood control package to be built on Paint Creek about four miles west of the city, in "budgetary reserve."

A reliable source said that this meant the recent appropriation of $900,000 which was approved by Congress, at the urging of Senator John Sherman Cooper, was not scheduled for spending, at least for the time being. That action is at the President's discretion.

The reserve move was taken, the source said, to provide the President with an opportunity to review the entire fiscal situation for 1971, and its relationship to the budget for fiscal 1972. That '72 budget is now being prepared by the President for submission to Congress in January.

Pre-construction planning on Paintsville Reservoir is going forward and is not affected by the budgetary reserve. Plans and specifications for access and bypass roads also are continuing.

The dam and reservoir on Paint Creek have been in the planning and engineering stage since 1962, and nearly $2 million already has been spent on planning and advance engineering.

Although construction funds had not been included in the President's budget for 1971, the Corps of Engineers had indicated that about $900,000 could be used to begin first phases of construction, and that set the amount which Senator Cooper managed to get into the Public Works Appropriation Bill.

When, or if, the appropriated funds will be spent, as of now, apparently is solely at the discretion of President Nixon, and no indication of his planning is expected until the proposed '72 budget takes shape.

THIRD OIL COMPANY STARTING WELL IN MORGAN AT MOUTH STINSON BR.

Rome Oil & Gas Has 5,000 Acres Leased On Caney

A third drilling rig was brought into Morgan county this week, and by week's end a third exploratory well will be underway in the county.

C. E. Faulkner, drilling contractor of Stanton, is setting up a Bucyrus-Erie 24-L cable tool rig on the Ernest Craft lease at Caney to sink an exploratory well for Rome Oil and Gas Company of Lexington which has more than 5,000 acres under lease in the Caney valley section of Morgan county.

Rome's first work will be to sink an old 1913 gas well deeper. The 1913 well is at the mouth of Stinson Branch at Caney on the farm of Ernest Craft. It was drilled to the 1630 foot level and has been producing gas from the top of the corniferous for over a half century, enough to supply the farm home with heating gas.

Rome also plans to drill other exploratory wells on its acreage in the Caney Valley section, according to reports.

RUBEWOODS WELL DOWN 2,500 FEET

Meanwhile, Richard Drake is down approximately 2,500 feet in the deep test he is drilling for Roland Amys and associates on the Rutk Bros. lease in the Rubewoods section.

DEVILS BEAT ROWAN CO. AND INEZ; STRETCH WIN STREAK TO 5 IN A ROW

Record Now 5-2; Locals To Host Garrett Friday

How about that! Five in a row for Coach Ken Collins' worth' and Assistant Coach Asa Vest's Morgan County High Blue Devils! Latest victims: the Rowan County Vikings and the Inez Indians. Both games were played at home.

In both outings the Devils scored a respectable total of 150 points. But credit for the victories must go to the Devils' tough defense.

In both encounters, the rangy Morgan lads kept their scrappy, well-coached opponents "out from under" the basket, forcing both Rowan and Inez to shoot from outside. At the same time, the Devils' Jim Hill, Cliff Smith, James Wallin and Mike Jenkins completely dominated the defensive boards.

In last Friday's bout with Rowan County, the Devils jumped to a 20-12 first quarter lead and put down a second-quarter Viking rally to lead, 35-20, at the half.

In the third quarter, the Devils lengthened their lead to 20 points. But, despite the score, it was a good halftime by the well-coached clubs. The difference in score was the result of the fine defensive performances of the Blue Devils starters.

This was reflected in the final period when the Blue Devil coaching staff sent in the subs and Rowan County quickly cut their deficit from 20 points to 9 points. But time ran out on the Vikings and the Devils won 77-66.

Scoring for the Morgan lads was fairly evenly divided among the starters. Leading the way was James Wallin with 19, followed closely by sophomore forward Cliff Smith with 16, guard Tim Keller with 15, Guard Mike Blanton got 7, Mike Jenkins and Terry Stacy 4 each, and Eddie Cottle 2.

Against Inez Tuesday, it was much the same story. The Devils jumped to a 22-14 first period lead, then managed to blunt a second-period rally by Inez which cut the Devil lead to three points, 43-40, at the half.

In the third period, guard Mike Blanton went on an eight-point scoring spree, while his teammates held the Indians scoreless for nearly three minutes midway in the period, and the Devils ended the quarter ahead by 12 points, 63-51.

The Indians tightened their allcourt press in the fourth and at one point late in the quarter cut the Devil lead to six points. But the Devils hung on for an 81-73 victory.

Hill led the scoring for Morgan with 27 points. Blanton got 18, Keller 12, Wallin 9, Smith 8, and Jenkins 7.

The Devils play at home again Friday night against Garrett, and on Tuesday will wrap up pre-holiday play away against Dilcie Combs.

STATE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION approved East Kentucky Rural Electric Cooperative's request to borrow $16.3 million from the federal government to construct new facilities. The Winchester-based firm serves 180,000 customers in Southern, Central and Northern Kentucky. The money would finance 263 miles of transmission lines, 25 substations and related facilities. Application will be made to the U. S. Rural Electric Corporation.

STATE LABOR DEPARTMENT announced that Kentucky's restrictions on wage garnishments are substantially similar to those in the federal Consumer Protection Act, making it the first state in the nation to qualify for exemption from the federal provisions. Kentucky was one of nine states which filed for exemption. Federal law restricts the amount of earnings which may be deducted from an individual's pay through garnishments, also prohibits his discharge because of garnishments for a single debt.

WATERWAY LITTERING could be reduced through new legislation. U. S. Senate Public Works Committee has approved a bill authorizing jail sentences up to six months and fines up to $500 for littering lakes or other reservoirs administered by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. The provision was inserted in a waterways bill at request of U. S. Senator John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., who said such pollution has become a problem, particularly on Lake Cumberland. "It's a disgrace that many camping and picnicking areas and the banks of many lakes are cluttered with trash," Cooper said.

FORMER GOV. Edward T. Breathitt beginning Jan. 14 will teach a course in political science at the Hopkinsville Community College. Breathitt is the first former governor known to teach a full-time college level course, although Earl Clements and Bert Combs served as visiting lecturers at northern schools.

MORE CARS FOR C & O—Chesapeake & Ohio Railway and its B & O affiliate already are the biggest coal haulers in the world. And they have ordered 4,100 more steel hopper cars for delivery in 1971 to beef up its coal-hauling capacity. C & O's Raceland Car Shops near Ashland is to commence delivery in January on its 2,100 hundred-ton hopper cars, and last week C & O and B & O awarded contract to Steel Corp. to build 2,000 one-hundred-ton coal hopper cars in its plants. The Raceland shops are finishing up a previous order of 3,600 coal hoppers for C & O. The affiliated railroads already have a total of 76,000 coal cars, more than any other coal-carrying railroad. The Raceland shops have been building an average of 80 new coal cars a week the past year and a half. C & O also has ordered 35 high-power diesel locomotives from Bethlehem Steel. The new rolling stock is needed to keep pace with the additional coal production in Kentucky. West Virginia and Pennsylvania, said C & O B & O officials.

FULL SPEED AHEAD—Due to current demands for coal, Norfolk and Western Railway last week placed "rush" orders on the construction of its 24-mile branch line into Martin County, Ky. to tap new coal deposits. The new spur line starts at Kermitt, W. Va. and crosses in to Kentucky on a new bridge across Tug Fork of Big Sandy, then proceeds up Wolfe Creek to near its headwaters, where a 1,700-foot tunnel will take it on to the waters of Rockcastle Creek. Codell Construction Co. of Winchester already is at work on the first two sectors of the road, and the third and final eight-mile sector is scheduled for bidding in two weeks. N & W now plans to advance the completion date ahead of the projected June 1972 deadline in order to serve three big mines being opened in Martin County where coal interests have purchased about a million-acre coal area.

MOON WELL MILE DEEP, REPORT

Slim Ray, drilling contractor from London, is down past the 5,200 foot level (a mile) in the deep test he is drilling for Monitor Petroleum Corp. of New York on the Fred Ison lease near Moon. It is Monitor's second deep test in this area and is being drilled on a farm-out agreement with Ashland Oil, Pennzoil and Sun. The well is on the Fred Ison Farm on Doc Ison Creek, about three-fourths of a mile north of Moon postoffice in the northeast section of Morgan county, close to the Elliott and Lawrence county lines.

The well is a "tight hole," and no official data has been released on the drilling. But Ray's rotary rig has been making hole for several weeks, and it is thought to be below the 5,200 foot level. Monitor's first deep test at Stephens on Little Fork in eastern Elliott county, was drilled to the 9,700 foot level, and reportedly struck oil in the top of the Rome at 7,900 feet and a big gas flow in the St. Peter at 4,600 feet.

NUNN CONFIDENT OF GOP VICTORY IN GOV.'S RACE

Gov. Louis B. Nunn said last week he is convinced the Republicans can establish political history by electing a second consecutive governor of Kentucky.

He made the statement at the conclusion of an address to an estimated 3,000 party members and guests who filled the east wing of Freedom Hall for the $100-a-plate third anniversary dinner.

Most of the governor's speech dealt with events of his term so far, and it began with what he called the apprehensive day of inaugural. By then, he indicated, he knew of "difficulties" in the future such as, he said, a financial crisis, an entrenched enemy party in government positions and the deterioration or threat to a number of vital state programs.

"But tonight, 36 months later, there is evidence that positive changes have taken place in our state," he said. Nunn claimed that the Kentucky Efficiency Task Force he sponsored made recommendations which have by and large been implemented or will be in time. He cited improvements in almost every area of state government, ranging from schools to highways.

"We have tried to discern between political expediency and public service," he said.

Declaring that no one can predict the political harvest of 1971, the governor added:

"But with the knowledge that we have done the best we can, that we have taken the course we believed right, that we have fought and not surrendered those things in which we believed and that our efforts have not been blighted by scandal, we eagerly await the judgement of the people."

Attending the dinner and speaking from Morgan were County Party Chairman Boyd Blair and Mrs. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Richard Hager Ray and daughter, Dorell Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Evans, Henry L. Allen, and Charles Ray Clevenger.

OBSERVATIONS • AND • PREDICTIONS

MOST PRESSING PROBLEMS—Crime, Drugs and Inflation rate in one-two-three order as national problems, according to nearly 10,000 Kentuckians who answered questionnaires sent out by Senator Marlow Cook. Kentucky respondents saw the most pressing domestic issues in terms of priority as follows: Crime 7,764; Drugs 6,772; Inflation 3,753; Campus Unrest 3,715; Environment 1,655; Population Control 1,220; Poverty 719; Education 696, and Civil Rights 629.

FLAGRANT VIOLATIONS—More than 400 coal-hauling trucks are operating over roads in Eastern Kentucky without license plates, or fuel permits, and without having paid sales taxes on the trucks—so says an official who has checked the records. Agents of the Motor Transportation Department can only write citations—it's up to local judges to enforce the laws.

Ky. Hunting, Fishing License Fees Hiked; Now Need Trout Stamp

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Hunting and fishing licenses for Kentucky sportsmen will be raised by an average of 70 cents a year each effective July 1, the Fish and Wildlife Commission announced Monday.

The commission said the increase was needed both to meet higher operating costs since the last fee-hike five years ago and to help finance the new $2.25 million Clark Fish Hatchery in Rowan County. That hatchery, scheduled for completion on Cave Run Reservoir late next year, will replace all the state's other hatcheries.

Fees for both statewide fishing and hunting licenses will be raised from $4.25 to $4.95 a year while the combination hunting and fishing license fee will go from $7.50 to $9.00 a year for Kentuckians. Fee increases for non-residents of Kentucky will be raised from $3.25 to $4.00 for the 15-day fishing license, from $7.50 to $10.00 for statewide fishing and from $25.50 to $27.50 for statewide hunting. There will be no change in the cost of deer tags but a $2.25 trout stamp was established to help pay for continuing the expanded trout-stocking program.

WOODSBEND SAILOR PROMOTED, AWARDED CITATION

Navy Petty Officer First Class Byron E. May of Woodsbend takes it easy after recent promotion.

Navy career man Byron E. May of Woodsbend, who recently was promoted to Petty Officer First Class, also has been cited by his commanding officer for his outstanding service aboard the aircraft carrier Coral Sea.

Petty Officer First Class May is one of only 12 men in the entire Navy to be promoted to his present rating after taking a Navy-wide examination for the rating.

He is a son of Mrs. Eve May of Woodsbend and the late Byron May. He recently spent a leave at home with his mother and visited other relatives. Following is a letter written to his mother by his commanding officer which accompanied Petty Officer May's citation—

USS CORAL SEA (CVA-43) Hunters Point Naval Shipyard

16 November 1970

Dear Mrs. May,

As I sit here writing this letter your son Byron is home on leave; however, I suspect that he is too modest to tell you what an outstanding job he has done and I think you should hear it from me, his boss.

Since reporting aboard CORAL SEA, your son has performed his duties in an outstanding manner. Upon reporting, he was assigned as catapult captain and as such he is responsible for the proper operation, maintenance, cleanliness of his equipment, and training of his crew. Although this is a billet normally held by a First Class Petty Officer, Byron readily accepted the additional responsibility.

As you know, your son was recently promoted to the rate of Petty Officer First Class. This is an accomplishment for which I am sure you are as proud of him as we are here aboard CORAL SEA. He may not have told you, but there were only 12 men in the entire Navy promoted to that rate from the examination he took.

As your son may have told you, CORAL SEA won the cherished Admiral Flatley Safety Award for the second consecutive year.

Members of the Pleasant Valley Country Club enjoyed their first Christmas party at the new clubhouse last Saturday evening.

Present were around 49 members who gathered around an open fire in the clubhouse's huge fireplace to enjoy recorded Christmas music and an evening of bridge, canasta, and ruck.

Adding to the Yule spirit were mantle decorations of poinsettias, greenery and lighted candles with greenery and candles spotted around the room and in the clubhouse windows.

Refreshments, prepared for the occasion by members who attended, consisted of a table laden with sandwiches, cakes, cookies, and candies.

Planning and decorating for the party was carried out by the club's entertainment committee, headed by Mrs. Mary Katherine Motley.

The entertainment committee is now making plans to hold parties for clubmembers at the clubhouse on the second Saturday in every month. Tentative plans call for a dance in January and a Valentine party in February.

Believe me, it would never have been possible without dedicated men like your son carrying out their exacting duties.

Since CORAL SEA's return to the United States, we have been here in the shipyard receiving a major face lifting so to speak. Byron's work has only increased in scope and in recognition of his outstanding performance, he was selected as the Air Department (360 men) Sailor of the Month for September and October, and nominated by me to be the CORAL SEA Sailor of the Month. The superlative accomplishment which highlighted this selection is outlined in the enclosed citation.

I know you are very proud of your son and I would like to extend my compliments on his outstanding performance and cheerful attitude. It is a pleasure to work with him and I wish I had 359 more just like him.

Most sincerely,
R. A. MAULDIN
CDR USN
Air Officer

The following is an excerpt from the citation awarded Petty Officer May—

"May's outstanding leadership and professional abilities coupled with his initiative and 'can do' attitude was directly responsible for the outstanding results accomplished by his crew. They completed the job in approximately 961 man hours with no direct expenditure of funds, thus allowing the monies which were originally programmed for this job to be used elsewhere in the repair package. As a result of May's accomplishment, the USS MIDWAY is now undertaking the same job on their catapults utilizing ships force personnel and CORAL SEA has now established another standard for the fleet."

THE JOY HE BROUGHT

The world has never been the same,
Since the day The Saviour came.
When The Angels sang of Peace:
Brought a joy that ne'er will cease.

Love that had never before been known,
In the hearts of men, was then sown.
Drawn together by cords of Love:
By THE BABE sent down from above.

This is why IIE came to live and die
To teach us lessons from His home on high
Love, joy and Peace what more could we ask:
To help us overcome in our daily tasks.

Soo IIE will come in HIS mighty power
We do not know the day or the hour
THE BABE, The Wise Men came to see;
Will be THE KING coming in royal majesty.

Let us work, watch and daily pray,
For the hastening of that glorious day.
When IIE comes to catch HIS Bride away
Takes Her home forever with HIM to stay.

O!! The glories that there await,
Those who enter with HIM through The pearly gate,
Songs of praise, Joy and Peace: Ever and ever they'll sing and never cease.

A CHRISTMAS MESSAGE FROM MR. AND MRS. GOEBEL RATLIFF

To Our Very Dear Friends—

Since the condition of my health has reached the stage that it has, and Mrs. Ratliff, time is so completely taken up with things over which we have no control, it is an impossibility for us to mail out our usual Christmas greeting cards this year. Will you please permit us through this means to wish you all a very, very, merry Christmas and from prayerful and humble hearts wish you all a prosperous new year.

We wish so much to thank each and every one of you for your tokens of love and encouragement conveyed to us in many ways, and most especially for your prayers, but find that we do not have the words.

As we enter this Christmas season, may our prayer be—Lord Jesus, as we look into the future, let no fears assail us. Help us to be as confident that Thou wilt be with us in the future as we knew Thou hast been with us in the past.

God bless all of you.
—Mr. and Mrs. Goebel Ratliff

WORST FARM BILL EVER, NFU HEAD SAYS

The National Farmers Organization opened a three-day national convention in Louisville Wednesday, and Oren Lee Staley, president of NFU, said Tuesday that the recently-passed federal farm bill is "the worst since farm legislation began in the 1930's. It is based on the theory that you have to keep farm prices down in order to move into the work market—a theory that can destroy the family farm structure."

Staley, who is serving his 13th year as NFU president, urges farmers to organize and become active in policy decisions.

Salersville Seeks Community Building

SALERSVILLE — The community of Salersville is initiating plans to utilize the site of the grade school building destroyed last year by fire to fill a need in the community.

Steps are being taken to secure a community facilities building, on the site with the land, provided by the Board of Education, to become the local contribution for the project.

Community facilities structures have been cropping up all over Kentucky and Paintsville is now in the advance planning stage for such a building. Camp ton, in Wolfe County, has such a facility under construction.

The structures provide a small gymnasium, auditorium and meeting rooms of various meeting rooms to fill the cultural, physical and social needs of a small community.

HOLLIDAY

By Harrison Holliday

Dec. 14—The oil fever is on again and some leases are being taken for a few farmers of this section. I hope we will see some drilling on farms that have had none and maybe see some good oil or gas wells.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodford Oney of Middletown, Ohio were visiting Mrs. Sally Lacy and Harrison Holliday and others of this place.

Mrs. Herbert Oney of Cincinnati came in Saturday to visit her mother, Mrs. Anna Salyer, who is in the hospital at Morehead at this time. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. Lloyd Ross and wife, Nora Gay, their daughters, Janice and Sue of Reading, Ohio were visiting Mrs. Ross and family and Harrison Holliday and family over the weekend. They went home Sunday evening.

I received a letter and a Christmas card from Mr. and Mrs. Roy R. Day, who live in Oklahoma. I used to go to school with him and his wife, Eunice Nickell, of Caney. They moved to Oklahoma in the year 1922 and I have not seen them since. They take The Licking Valley Courier and have been reading my news for a long time. We are glad that they remembered us at Christmas time. They were asking about some of their old schoolmates but most of them have passed to a better world.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Litteral of West Liberty were visiting Bryan and Sally Lacy on Sunday.

At this time I want to wish all the staff of The Courier office and all the readers of The Courier the most merry Christmas that they have ever had. God bless you all.

STANTON, Ky. — The Combs. Carroll state headquarters has appointed Dwight Pendleton and Bascom Patrick as co-chairmen of the campaign for Bert Combs and Julian Carroll for the Democrat nominations for governor and lieutenant governor in Powell County. Pendleton is an attorney.

ODDS AND ENDS

By Earl Kinner, Jr.

Harve Gillum, news correspondent for The Elliott County News, had short shift for an article appearing recently in that newspaper. The item concerned an automobile powered by a new type, electro-magnetic motor which its inventor claims can be operated indefinitely for only pennies a day—the next best thing to perpetual motion. The article didn't say, but snorted Harve in his Little Fork news column the other day, "It (the car) probably has large wheels in the back. In that way it could always be running down hill."

A classified ad in this newspaper last week offering a "slightly used" deer tag for sale brought a chuckle from a lot of readers. But though everyone hereabouts recognized it for what it was—a joke, certain Fish and Wildlife Department officials in Frankfort took a pretty dim view of it all. The reason: it's illegal to resell a deer tag. Repercussions were swift. A Fish and Wildlife Department official in Frankfort got in touch with the area conservation officer, who in turn called Morgan County Conservation Officer David Adams at 6 o'clock in the morning and ordered him to investigate. David, who also recognized the joke for what it was, nonetheless had to make inquiries. His first step was our office to talk to the editor, but the editor deferred to the associate editor and took off for parts unknown. Since this scribe was ignorant of the entire matter we couldn't have told David much even if we'd wanted to. David was pretty nice about it all but told us we'd better pull the ad. We did.
